

Jay Lowder Evangelist, Founder of Jay Lowder Harvest Ministries

1. Can you tell us a little about your own faith journey?
2. When did you feel the call to go into full-time evangelism and begin Jay Lowder Harvest Ministries?
3. How has your story of overcoming suicide helped you to connect with the students you speak to?
4. You are the author of "Midnight in Aisle 7." Can you tell us a little bit about the book and the meaning behind the title?
5. What is the vision for your ministry both within and outside of the United States?
6. Because of the nature of your ministry, I know you have witnessed powerful evidence of Christ's love in people's life. Can you share an example of this?
7. At one point you contemplated leaving your marriage and the ministry. What transpired that helped to change your mind?
8. What would you say a modern-day evangelist looks like? What challenges does he or she face in today's society?
9. What lessons have you learned about ministry and evangelism by being a husband and father of three?
10. What is an Adventure Weekend?
11. Through Jay Lowder Harvest Ministries, you have a special emphasis on reaching men with the Gospel message. Why is this, and what makes your Adventure Weekends unique from other ministry events across the country?
12. I know you have been on ESPN Outdoors and are an avid hunter and fisherman. How does this relate to your ministry? What is the impact you have seen?
13. You have created a nationally recognized school program called "Crossroads," which is aimed at addressing the pressures of alcohol, drugs, suicide, violence and sex to teenagers living in our demanding society. From your experience in speaking to students, what seems to be the biggest challenge facing American youth?
